Head of tide water; to this point

this branch of Smiths River is navigable for vessels of 10 feet draught of water; at this point the river is but 100 lks. wide and shallow. I have only meandered one bank, as the river is narrow and of uniform width.

Feb. 16th, 1867.

From the meander post on south boundary of Sec. 32, on left bank, I run up stream, as follows:
