

T. 29 S., R. 6 W., Willamette Meridian, Oregon

CHAINS

the main ridge. The north slope is covered by heavy stand of timber and the south slope is a natural meadow with scattered timber.

No mineral deposits were noted along the line surveyed.

Several observations along the line surveyed gives a magnetic declination of $19^{\circ} 15'$ East.